

OPPORTUNITY unstuck!

Building a Culture of Performance

What if you could guarantee your future success by discovering new opportunities that are perfect for you? What if you could guarantee your organization's future success by building a culture of performance?

This seminar allows you to discover how to unlock your right time, right place, and right opportunity both in your business world and personal life. In doing this, you will be contributing to building a culture of performance within your organization. By attending this seminar, you will increase your own self-awareness and create your own cycle of endless opportunities.

Based on the golden keys of the book, "OPPORTUNITY unstuck!" this seminar demonstrates that it isn't about luck at all; instead it is about a carefully crafted plan that is carried out with calculated precision.

What You Will Learn

As a participant, you will learn:

- Self-awareness of your behaviors and attitudes
- How to gain effective feedback
- How to measure your progress in improving your culture of performance
- How to put yourself into a continuous cycle of opportunity

How You Will Benefit

Participants who take and apply the principles in this seminar will find opportunities for better projects, better team performance, less "down time", and increased satisfaction in their careers. Additionally, personal and team productivity will be impacted, driving improved results at the bottom line.

Course Outline

- 5 Golden Keys to unlock your right time, right place, and right opportunity both in your business world and personal life.
- Connecting these simple, proven principles for successful impact by professionals.
- Assessing and discovering your gaps in your quest for opportunity
- Becoming a recognized expert
- Becoming emotionally engaged
- Actively helping others
- Becoming an effective team member
- Assessing the gaps that exist in your own personal foundation
- Developing a strong personal foundation

Techniques for getting unstuck in each of these areas are discussed and applied to an individual development plan that the participant will generate at the end of the workshop. Will you stay stuck or will you discover how to unlock a cycle of continuing opportunities that are perfect for you?

Who Should Attend

Project managers, project coordinators, business analysts, project team members, functional supervisors and other business professionals working in projects

Delivery Format:

One day instructor-led seminar